Yale SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
Teaching and Learning Center

Our Mission is to foster excellence in education at the Yale School of Medicine. We achieve this through service to the learning community by providing expertise and innovation in educator development, assessment, learning technologies and curriculum design. We have committed faculty and staff who work together with our colleagues supporting educators at every level; students, residents, fellows and faculty. We dedicate ourselves to enhance educator development and foster scholarship in medical education.

Activities to Promote Learning

For Faculty:

Educator Development Programs:

Teaching Skills & Pedagogies
Student Assessment
Program Assessment
Learning Technologies

Individual Consultations:

Peer Observation and Feedback
Educational Scholarship
Teaching Strategies

Programs and Events:

Medical Education Fellowship
Standardized Patient Program
Med Ed Discussion Series
Educator Development Retreats
Medical Education Day at Yale

For Residents and Students:

Elective Courses
Feedback Training

Med Ed Interest Group
Educational Workshops

Resident-as-Teacher Programs
Educational Scholarship

The Teaching and Learning Center Faculty and Staff

Janet Hafler, EdD
Director
Associate Dean for Educator Scholarship

John Encandela, PhD
Associate Director for Curriculum and
Educator Assessment

Anna Reisman, MD
Director, Standardized
Patient Program

Michael Green, MD, MSc
Associate Director for
Student Assessment

Gary Leydon
Associate Director for Technology Services

Dana Dunne, MD
Associate for Educator Development

Dorothy DeBernardo
Manager

Linda Sarro
Manager for Educator
Development Programs

Carolin Hart
Senior Administrative Assistant

An Academic Home for Educators
Phone: 203-785-3327 ~ Website: tlc.yale.edu ~ Email: tlc@yale.edu